

Multicultural Awareness – information sessions for employers and volunteers

The Australian Red Cross is here to support you to embrace cultural diversity and increase multicultural awareness in your workplace and community.

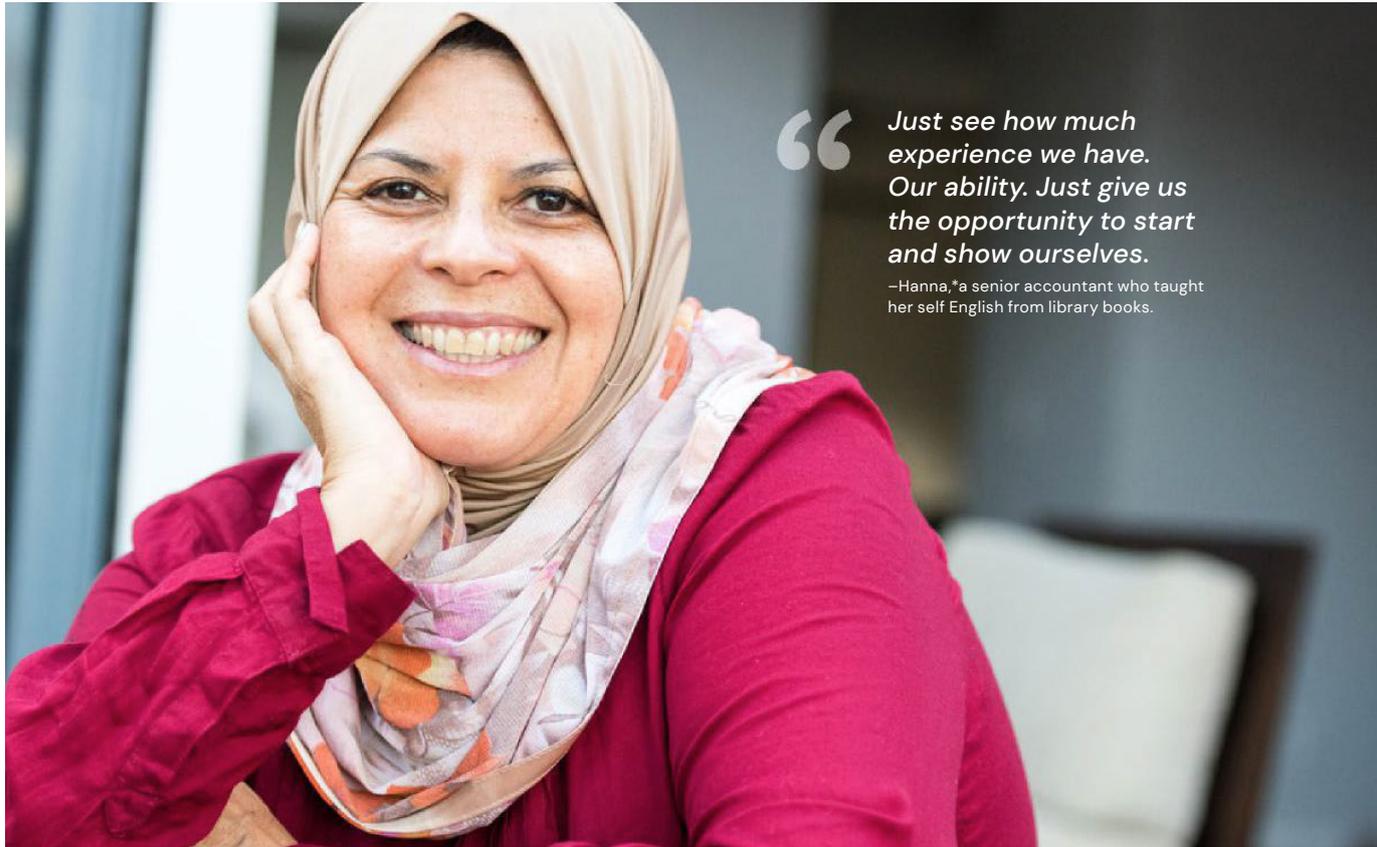

Image: iStock/Juanmorino. Name and image changed to protect privacy.

“
*Just see how much experience we have.
Our ability. Just give us
the opportunity to start and show ourselves.*

–Hanna,* a senior accountant who taught her self English from library books.

Sessions can be attended by all staff, management and volunteers.

Our sessions cover:

- Historical background to multiculturalism
- Current makeup of Australian population
- Awareness of communication skills, perspectives and clarifying common misconceptions
- Culturally responsive approaches to multicultural relationships
- Strategies and guidance on how to embrace cultural diversity in your workplace and community

Creating welcoming communities

- Gain insight into the benefits of embracing a multicultural workplace and community
- Demonstrate your organisation's social responsibility commitments
- Training can be done at your workplace for groups of 8 or more

Book your free session now.

Contact the Red Cross Migration Support Program to reserve your place or to organise a presentation at your workplace.

Phone 03 6235 6077

Email tasmsphub@redcross.org.au